Dear Tim:

Thank you so much for the 3-hour training program “Liability Issues - Hiring to Firing” that you presented to our safety council on September 23, 2009. It was truly a beneficial training program that was well worth the cost that we paid you.

We had an excellent response, over 120 attendees; normally we do not get that kind of response for a 3-hour presentation. During these economic times we feel our members realized that this was a very cost effective and beneficial option for them plus you are one of their favorite presenters. I would highly recommend other safety council utilize your excellent presentation skills.

On our evaluations, the overall consensus was that it was an excellent program. Some of the comments were: “can’t believe it was a 3-hour program, very interesting & informative”, “real-life applicable and made it worth my time”, “Great Job, can’t wait for the Emerging Worker”, “very engaging & informative, excellent checklists and forms for documentation” “great presentation”, “great program”.

Again, thank you and we look forward to you doing a regular meeting presentation on “The Emerging Worker” in May.

Sincerely,

Kathy Kellums
